

Inishturk Island

For this experience, we head out into the Atlantic towards the island and its rich surrounding waters, where the scenery becomes increasingly wild and dramatic. Along the way, it is common to encounter dolphins travelling alongside the boat, while the island itself is home to an abundance of seals. We explore the remarkable sea caves around the coastline and take in the towering cliffs where puffins nest during the season. For those wishing to fish, the waters around Inishturk offer excellent opportunities for ocean fishing, with the dramatic sea stacks and rugged Atlantic landscape creating an unforgettable setting. The journey is as much about discovering the coastline and its wildlife as it is about the fishing.
